Internship in Russia: Volunteer Program of the Alabuga International School (AIS)

The Alabuga International School (AIS: https://alabugais.ru/en/) maintains extracurricular learning clubs in the city of Yelabuga (Russian Federation, Republic of Tatarstan) for children aged 3-12 and students from various schools. To support its program, AIS is looking for dedicated volunteer mentors with solid English language skills who are willing to support children and students learning in the following disciplines: STEM subjects, Robotics, Biotech (Biology/Chemistry), Critical Thinking, Design Thinking and Emotional Intelligence.

For the volunteers, the activity offers the opportunity to intensively deal with these subjects and to guide scientific work in a playful way. In addition to the voluntary service, there is the opportunity to gain insight into the work of one of the companies in the "Alabuga Economic Zone" and to create an attractive leisure program. The costs for accommodation, travel and visa as well as for a voluntary Russian course are covered by the AIS. The internship period is at least one, ideally three months. The start of the internship can be flexibly coordinated with the organization team. A detailed description of the field of activity can be found here: https://drive.google.com/file/d/17hXXZVRkqy0p15PjQjQjWMzfBdKs6jJO/view

With their work, the volunteers make a valuable contribution to the personal development of young people in Yelabuga. Applicants from the STEM subjects, Robotics, Biotech (Biology/Chemistry), Critical Thinking, Design Thinking and Emotional Intelligence are preferred. However, it is crucial that your enthusiasm for working with children is expressed in your application.
